ICU Mobile

New Strategy, Same Mission

How you're saving MORE lives like Sara's baby with a new outreach at Care Net!

She was at a crossroads. Abused, addicted, and facing an unplanned pregnancy, Sara stood on a sidewalk in Alabama and tried to decide what to do right now. She had come to visit the abortion clinic and found an RV there with ICU Mobile on the side, promising free ultrasounds and a second opinion.

She thought she wanted an abortion, but now she wasn't so sure. She felt something urge her to step onto the ICU Mobile medical unit instead. There, the mobile team listened, prayed with her, and showed her the ultrasound of her baby. That moment gave her the courage to choose life.

More Than Just An Ultrasound

Because the team Sara found that day walked alongside her, she found the support she needed to overcome her drug addiction and give her unborn baby a fighting chance. With the strength she found through faith and community, she and her boyfriend got married and welcomed their baby into the world.

Four years later, Sara returned to the mobile unit, but her reason was different this time. She was pregnant again . . . and wanted to share the good news! She had been clean from drugs for years and was overjoyed to be expecting another child. Sara told the mobile team, "I'm glad I didn't choose to abort my baby. She saved my life; she is my angel—and this mobile unit is a big part of my story."

New Opportunities to Save Lives Now... and for Eternity!

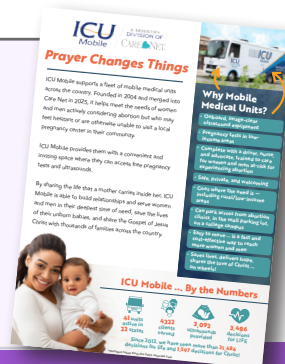

There are so many stories like this among the ICU Mobile team, and that's why Care Net is SO EXCITED to now be welcoming ICU Mobile into Care Net!

Because of this brand-new endeavor to send mobile medical units into MORE

Going Mobile:

Care Net's Exciting Partnership with ICU Mobile

At Care Net, we've always provided compassionate care and practical resources to women and men facing unplanned pregnancies. As we seek innovative ways to meet people at their points of need, one of the most impactful methods we've seen is the use of mobile medical units.

Mobile Medical Units: Reaching the Hardest-to-Reach

These state-of-the-art vehicles are fully equipped medical units, offering free pregnancy tests and ultrasounds. Staffed by skilled nurses and compassionate volunteers, these mobile clinics establish meaningful connections with those in crisis.

Often, individuals considering abortion face a combination of economic, emotional, and spiritual challenges. Logistical barriers—such as a lack of nearby pregnancy centers or reliable transportation—can prevent them from accessing life-affirming support and resources. Mobile medical units can bridge these gaps, bringing care directly to those who need it most.

A Powerful New Partnership

To strengthen this vital outreach, Care Net is thrilled to announce our merger with ICU Mobile, a national pro-life ministry that has been operating mobile medical units across the country since 2004 and shares our passion for life and Abundant Life. When I first spoke with Sylvia Slifko, ICU Mobile's founder, and other key leaders, she shared their new strategic initiative "John 10:10 Plan." This immediately resonated with me, as Care Net's Pro Abundant Life mission is also based on John 10:10! This was a clear sign to me that God was orchestrating this collaboration to serve more people, save more lives, and most importantly, share the gospel of Jesus Christ with those in need.

Looking Ahead

This merger begins an exciting new chapter. In the coming months, we'll share more on how this partnership means we'll reach more communities, empower more moms and dads to choose life and ABUNDANT life in Christ, and save babies' lives!

For more information, visit care-net.org/mobile. Stay tuned for more exciting news!

When Cecilia Faced an Impossible Future

...you gave her the courage to consider adoption for her baby

When a mom calls our national hotline, she almost always feels like she's facing an insurmountable crisis that only abortion will solve. A hotline coach's job is to assess the situation, and then often show her that the crisis isn't a crisis . . . and that the problem is solvable without abortion.

But sometimes the crisis is more serious than just peer pressure to abort her baby. Sometimes the moms who call are facing real danger.

That's what Cecilia* was facing.

Julius* (the father of her baby) had an explosive temper, and she had the marks to prove it. Cecilia really didn't want to have an abortion. She had canceled her last appointment. But when he found out, Julius was furious. He threatened her with far worse than bruises if she put it off again.

Her hands were shaking.

Could she really raise her baby with an abusive father like that?

He watched her as she scrolled through her phone about abortion pills. Every letter of the word "abortion pill" felt like a hundred. But, thanks to the support of donors like you, she found an ad for Pregnancy Decision Line—Care Net's national hotline. The words "Learn about your options and what to do next" felt like a sign from heaven.

She waited until Julius was gone, and then made the call to our hotline. She was glad she did. The calm voice on the other side of the phone, Sally, listened attentively, asked encouraging questions, understood her situation, and was ready to help. When Sally mentioned adoption as an option, something clicked for Cecilia. Maybe she could still save her baby.

Julius was obviously not someone she wanted in her baby's life, and she knew she could never marry him. By the time she got off the phone, Cecilia knew what she wanted to do. Her coach had given her people to contact who could help her get away from Julius and an appointment with a local pregnancy center to help with her pregnancy.

Living in this broken world, there are times when a mom cannot safely raise her baby. Thanks to your generosity, moms like Cecilia can still give their children a bright future through the ministry of adoption. Thanks to you, their babies have a chance at the abundant life God wants them to have with loving parents who will raise them in a safe and godly home.

Please pray for moms like Cecilia who are in heartbreaking and abusive situations, that they would get the help they need to find safety for themselves and their babies and for those moms who need to have the courage to give their children the chance at an abundant life through adoption.

The Alternative to Abortion: Why We Must Be Pro-Abundant Life

After the overturning of Roe v. Wade in June of 2022, many pro-life Americans—especially Christians—began asking, "Now what?" Care Net President & CEO, Roland Warren, answers that question in his book, The Alternative to Abortion.
